

On April 25, 2013, a delegation of the European civil service, including Ingrid WETTERQVIST, a senior consultant for democracy and election observation of European External Action Service, visited the Ministry of Justice and exchanged views on a wide range of human rights issues and the death penalty. There were a total of 12 people participated in this event.

