

On November 28, 2013, Ministry of Justice invited Professor Mr. Sev Ozdowski, University of Western Sydney, Australia, to share experiences of the establishment of national human rights institutions in Australia so as to act as our reference and example for a related study and planning. There were a total of 11 people participated in this event.

